passenger you need to buckle up. Now, obviously, if your wife, Senator Schmitt, told you she wasn't going to buckle up, you're going to have to deal with that issue.

SENATOR SCHMITT: That's what I'm afraid of. (Laugh) Thank you, Senator Byars.

SENATOR CUDABACK: Thank you, Senator Schmitt. Senator Chambers, on your amendment.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Mr. President and members of the Legislature, I'm going to quote a very famous or infamous politician, let me make one thing perfectly clear. And then, to quote another one, I don't know who he was, who was always saying, let me say this about that. My intent is to try to kill this bill. I feel it goes right to the heart of the problems that my community has with the police. The session stops here as the buck stops here. Now you all can vote cloture and you can move this bill, and I'm going to take eight hours on Select File and I'm going to take eight hours on Final Reading. And when it's a matter literally of life or death for my people, this session means nothing to me. Every bill is fair game for me, including my own. This bill is not going to pass and if you move it then every bill in front of it on Select File is mine. You will deliver the session into my hands. Last year, this Legislature, in a majority vote, took action which I felt was very personal against me, detrimental to the members of my community and others not in my district whom I represent. So if that was the game they were going to play and my constituencies would have no representation, other people's constituencies wouldn't either because we were going to diminish considerably the number of laws that were created. And if you look at the record, last session was probably the lowest in terms of the number of bills that actually became law. I'm not here to win friends; and when this kind of legislation is presented, I will use every tool at my disposal within the rules to stop it. Senator Byars knew this was my position and he told me, let's have at it, and we'll have at it. And when those bills that he brings for those people down in Beatrice, I'm treating them all the same way. I'll be no respecter of persons, no respecter of issues. When the budget bill gets out here, same thing, all of them. I am fed up with these white people bringing stuff and pretending
